

FPWC LEARNING CIRCLE

Through Reconciliation, Weaving in Cultural Revitalization

DATE: Wednesday, May 11th, 2022

TIME: 12:00-2:00PM Est/Toronto

Location: Zoom

On behalf of First Peoples Wellness Circle, we are honoured to have Norma Rabbittskin as our guest speaker. Norma is a fluent Cree speaker from Big River First Nation, Saskatchewan. She has dedicated over 30 years as a Nurse and is very passionate in the development of community-based programming, which are strongly grounded, in the re-engaging of traditional healing practices. In March 2020, Norma received Saskatchewan Registered Nurses Association (SRNA) award of Excellence in Truth and Reconciliation.

Within this webinar the focus will be on returning to our traditional healing practices and cultural revitalization in our efforts of community development of our health care systems, for First Nation people. The use of traditional knowledge and the inclusion of ancestral practices in the delivery of health services to enhance health equity. Reconciliation involves opening space in local health field for inclusion of traditional knowledge and ancestral practices in delivery of health.

During this webinar participants will be provided insight into:

- Connecting back to our language, land, teachings, and cultural practices to walk in balance with all of life
- The recovery of Indigenous knowledge of health must be guided by community
- Working with Elders/Knowledge Keepers and the intentional weaving of traditional health practices with established bio-medical models of health
